

Part-Time Growth & Business Operations Associate (Student Role)

About Guldbrev

Guldbrev is one of Scandinavia's leading gold-buying companies, helping thousands of customers safely and conveniently sell their gold online.

Instead of visiting physical stores, customers request a prepaid insured envelope, send in their gold, and receive an evaluation and payout quickly and securely. We've built a modern, digital-first model in an industry that has traditionally been very old-fashioned.

Today, we operate across multiple markets in Northern Europe and are actively expanding internationally.

We're a fast-moving, entrepreneurial company focused on growth, performance marketing, operations, and customer experience — and we're now looking to connect with ambitious students in the Netherlands who want real-world experience while studying.

The Opportunity

This is not a typical student job.

You'll work directly with the team on real business challenges and growth initiatives across areas such as:

- Marketing & growth
- Market expansion
- Business development
- Operations & process improvement
- AI tools & automation
- Research & strategy
- Partnerships and outreach

You'll gain exposure to how a modern growth company operates behind the scenes, with real ownership and responsibility from day one.

We move quickly, test ideas fast, and value people who are proactive rather than waiting for instructions.

Who We're Looking For

We're ideally looking for someone who is:

- Ambitious and highly driven
- Curious and entrepreneurial

- Proactive and solution-oriented
- Interested in startups, growth, marketing, or business
- Comfortable working independently
- Fluent in English and Polish

You do not need years of experience. What matters most is mindset, work ethic, and willingness to learn quickly.

This role is especially relevant for students studying:

- Business
 - Economics
 - Marketing
 - Entrepreneurship
 - Strategy
 - Engineering
 - Data/Analytics
 - AI or Technology-related fields

Why This Role Is Different

Most student jobs involve repetitive tasks.

This role is designed to give you:

- Real responsibility
- Direct exposure to business growth
- Practical hands-on experience
- A steep learning curve
- Close collaboration with experienced operators and marketers
- Experience working with international expansion

Strong performers may also grow into larger responsibilities over time.

Practical Information

- Part-time alongside studies
 - Flexible working hours
 - Hybrid / remote-friendly depending on location
 - Compensation: approximately €16–22/hour depending on experience and responsibilities

Interested?

We'd love to hear from ambitious students who want to build real-world experience early and work closely with a fast-growing international company.

Please send a short introduction about yourself, your background, and why this opportunity interests you to us at e.m@guldbrev.se
