

UNIVERSITY OF ECONOMICS – VARNA

CONGRATULATORY ADDRESS

DEAR PROFESSOR YANKOWSKA,

Please accept my warmest greetings, as well as those of the academic leadership of the University of Economics – Varna, on the occasion of the remarkable anniversary – 100 years since the founding of the Poznań University of Economics and Business!

Throughout the centuries-old history of your higher education institution, professors and scholars have charted the path of several generations with competence and confidence, helping them build a broad perspective of the world, as well as true values and criteria for knowledge. Daily and tirelessly, through your work, you prove the university's mission to prepare individuals for life – individuals who seek and discover the necessary knowledge, excel professionally at the highest level, and successfully navigate the challenges of the sea of life. Congratulations on the patience and responsibility with which you have guided young people over the years to strengthen valuable personal qualities and to walk more confidently toward knowledge and the freedom of choice.

Please accept our wishes to preserve the traditions that fulfill dreams and open new horizons. As a higher education institution with a 106-year history, the University of Economics – Varna highly values our long-standing partnership. We believe that we are part of a grand community that represents our shared capital and potential for development.

We wish all faculty members and students health and academic perseverance! May your days be inspired by science and creativity, and may your journey forward be successful, filled with many more academic years and occasions to celebrate!
