

English Tutorial

for Academic and Professional Success

*Speak with confidence. Present with impact.
Make your English work for you.*

My name is Dominika Mroczkowska, and I have been teaching English at university level for nearly two decades. I am passionate about helping students develop the language skills, confidence, and communication strategies they need to thrive in academic, professional, and everyday situations.

I offer personalized English tutoring sessions tailored to your individual goals, needs, and interests. Whether you want to express yourself more confidently, deliver engaging presentations, prepare for job interviews, or strengthen your professional English, our sessions will focus on practical skills you can put into action straight away.

WHAT CAN WE WORK ON TOGETHER?

Communication skills

Express your ideas clearly, speak more fluently, and communicate with confidence.

Presentation skills

Structure your message, engage your audience, and make a lasting impression.

Job interview preparation

Practise answering challenging questions, highlight your strengths, and present yourself professionally.

Professional English

Expand your vocabulary, improve your pronunciation, and develop the language you need in the workplace.

Confidence and fluency

Overcome communication barriers and feel more comfortable using English in real-life situations.

Every session is interactive, supportive, and designed around your priorities. Through practical activities, realistic scenarios, and constructive feedback, we will work together to help you communicate more naturally and achieve your goals.

My goal is to help you move beyond learning English to using it with confidence.

Whether you are preparing for your next presentation, a job interview, or a new professional challenge, I will help you develop the skills to express yourself effectively and make your voice heard.
